LEXINGTON, Ky. — Todd Fletcher is taking these jobs at winning the Breeders' Cup Distaff, a race with a full field of 14 fillies and mares looking for a true superstar like past champion Beholder, Daylinda, Unabomber and Zenyatta.

The trainer will saddle Carolina, God Lucky and Stochergingmam — all Grade 1 winners — in the $1 million race that highlights the opening day of the world championships Friday in its first visit to Kentucky.

"She's an aggressive mare when Unabomber was withdrawn earlier in the week because of a fever," Beholder, who won two years ago had bypassed the Distaff for a chance at taking Eclipse Award winner when she won the 2012 BC Juvenile Fillies and 2012 BC Distaff.

Beholder arrived in Kentucky on Oct. 20 and the next day developed a temperature. Within a day, she appeared back to normal.

Beholder is a two-time Eclipse Award winner when she won the 2012 BC Juvenile Fillies and 2012 BC Distaff. She has a six-race winning streak for owner B. Wayne Hughes, who lives in Lexington. Mandelka said Hughes plans to race her next race, Friday's other Breeders' Cup race.

GIRLS' TENNIS STATE TOURNAMENT INDIVIDUAL PRELIMINARIES

Two Blake players reach 1A semis

The top four singles seeds in both classes advanced to state semifinals.

By HEATHER BUELE Staff Writer for the Star Tribune

Fresh off a Class 1A team title this week, two of Blake's top girls' tennis players got back to work in singles competition.

Junior Libby Rickman and eighth-grader Ariana Shen — seeded first and second, respectively — earned semifinal spots after winning two matches each Thursday at Reed-Sweatt Family Tennis Center in Minneapolis.

The other seeds, freshmen Katie Malvey (No. 3) of Troy and sophomore eighth-grader Nore Letaitz (No. 4) of Duluth Marshall, also advanced.

Blake is back in Class 1A after spending the past two seasons in Class 2A. "The team grew so much more from that experience," Blake coach Marc Stuebler said. "We've found a good dog being front-runner favorites, which is a different kind of pressure." Rickman, part of the Class 2A doubles champions last season, rolled to a 6-0, 6-0 quarterfinal victory. She's a great counter player with phenomenal baseline positioning, her coach said.

"A lot of players use a deep ball, they retreat back," Stuebler said. "She'll actually hold her ground and be able to just produce offense." In Friday's semifinals, Rickman will face Heinritz, who won both of her matches 6-4, 6-3.

Blake's Shen won all 30 games in the team tournament, then won four more Thursday before dropping again in her 6-1, 6-0 first-round victory. She rolled to a 6-0 quarterfinal victory over junior Julia Smith of Park Rapids.

"She just quite frankly does not beat herself," Stuebler said of Shen. "She's not overpowering by any means, but she can handle any amount of pace."

She will face Malvey in the other semifinal. Malvey needed three sets and about two hours in her quarterfinal match to defeat Pace City junior Natalie Cahill 6-3, 2-4, 6-1.

Sister acts in doubles

Doubles matches Friday in both classes will be smooth in sisters.

In the Class 2A quarterfinals Thursday at Baseline Tennis Center, St. Cloud Tech sisters Taylor Thornley, a junior, and Katelyn Thornley, a sophomore, defeated another sister pair, Jordan and Taylor Egger of Eastview 6-3, 6-3.

Woodbury junior Mackenzie Scherbaum and sister Dakota, an eighth grader, rolled for a 3-6, 6-6, 6-3 victory in their quarterfinal. Senior sisters Paige and Taylor McLeod of Bendigo-Margaret won their quarterfinal match 6-4, 7-6 (1).

Junior Maggie Karaman and sophomore Grace Reikman from Mahanoodi also won in straight sets. In Class 1A doubles, Brock had two pairs of sisters in opposite brackets, paired with other partners. Juniors Grace Czuprynski and Lauren Koskivolk will face Jaqueline Kayla McIver and Kyle Funk of Foley in one semifinal. The other will be Minnetonka sophomore Isabella Lambert (No. 2) of Edina and sophomore Megan Brown (No. 4) in one semifinal.
