St. Paul Johnson again is badminton queen of hill

STAFF REPORTS

Kind of like revenge and payback.

That's how St. Paul Johnson senior Xoua Yang described defeating St. Paul Central 6-1 in the team semifinals of the state badminton tournament Saturday at Burnsville High School. Never mind that Johnson (18-0) went on to win a fifth state team title in the past six years with a 5-2 victory over St. Paul Washington. That was extra. "We were more confident in the final," Yang said.

It was a familiar script for Johnson, coming into the tournament undefeated and facing Central in the semifinals, just like last year. Central took home the title in 2014, but Johnson would not be denied two years in a row.

"We don't want the same thing to happen again," coach Mark Fischbach said. "We want payback."

Top-seeded Johnson got what it wanted.

Though the team had a bunch of seniors, six of them were new to the varsity this year, and only two of the 10 varsity players returned from last year. The team's work ethic and willingness to push for improvement was key to the successful season, according to Fischbach.

Encouragement among teammates helped as well, said senior first-doubles player Xiaj Chang.

"We just play the best that we can," Chang said.

Singles and doubles champions will be crowned Thursday at Eden Prairie High School.

HEATHER RULE

Jackson to head up Shakopee wrestling

Jim Jackson, who coached for 17 seasons at Apple Valley and led the Eagles to 14 state championships and a national title in 2011, is taking over as head coach at Shakopee.

The Shakopee activities office announced the news on Tuesday on the school's website.

"I am thankful for the opportunity provided to me and look forward to get back in the wrestling room with the athletes in Shakopee," Jackson said in the statement.

Apple Valley compiled a 618-27-3 record under Jackson before he stepped down in 2012. At the time he said he wanted to spend more time with his family, but he got back into wrestling last season at Eden Prairie in an unpaid "associate head coach."

"His record, experience and background speak for itself," Shakopee activities director John Jenkel said in the statement.

Jackson's success has been recognized across the country. He has served as the featured speaker at coaches' clinics in 10 states, according to the Shakopee statement.

"His experience and notoriety will be advantageous moving forward to help provide new opportunities for our program and student athletes," Jenkel said.

Jackson replaces Mark Neu, who earlier this year decided to step away from the position but stay involved. Neu guided the Sabers for 13 seasons. They finished second to Prior Lake in the Class 3A, Section 2 tournament in each of the past five years. Shakopee made its only team state tournament appearance under Neu in 2004.
